Mothers:

To My Eves, the Mothers of Humankind,

Surely as I have planned, so it will be, as I have purposed, so, it will stand. I have saved you and called you to a Holy life. Many are the plans in a man's heart, but it is My plans that prevails. The best way to experience fulfillment in your life as Mother, is to understand My purpose for humanity and to be in an ongoing intimate relationship with Me. Forget the things that are behind and reach for the things which are ahead of you. Press on to the Higher Calling. I am calling you forth to aim for the higher call to speak godly knowledge into the world situations, by taking the truth of My Word and applying it, not what you have as the norm.

Never live so below your privileges that you begin to believe a lie and call it truth. You are destined to help infiltrate the earth and culture with My Kingdom culture, be the moral code of society, with amazing courage and insightful strategies. You have knowledge and wisdom that the ordinary Mothers don't have. Bring life to what is dead and light to what is dark. As you serve your gift to entire generations, labor to bring forth that which is hidden inside. Co-labor push out your gifts like a woman in labor to solve problems and crisis facing this generation. Only then, will you begin to see and experience healing and new purposes for individuals, communities, and nations that I am sending you to bless.

Love is My essential quality. My love is pure and unconditional. Your love was designed to be fulfilled in Me. I fashioned you to be a receiver as a "wombed man" created in complementary design with perfect symmetry to man, for My larger purpose, "equal, yet different". You were created purposefully designed by Me, and I blessed you to exercise dominion equally over the earth.

You are different, not because you are less or more, but different because of your purpose. Mother, you were made to be a "suitable helper" and "companion" to accompany the male so he would not be alone, to help fulfill My vision in all areas of life. Life-giver, your powerful responsibility is to bring forth life, nurturing, transforming, bringing forth new life. Your nurturing instincts are a powerful source of help and encouragement in the lives of others. Mother, you were designed to see and feel life through an emotional filter which senses all aspects of life which, if overlooked can be detrimental to society and the world at large. You were made to feel the world around you, within you. Your discernment gifts will avert disaster. You are now being deployed to take a stand and pursue all of My purposes for you based on sincere faith and spiritual gifting on the inside of you as My primary agents of righteousness.

Your purpose as you remain connected to Me, nourishes and necessitates the fulfillment of your position as Mother; it is your position and decision to submit. Do not function in ignorance. To exercise legal authority, submit yourselves to the position you're created to be in so that you can fulfill what I have ordained. My original design stands for The Kingdom of Heaven on Earth. I will bring about new seasons of personal and spiritual growth for understanding principles and power of priorities as you seek first, My Kingdom. You are special and extraordinary, with My great love that I have lavished on you. When life gets hard, it is important to know that I Am your Father and I love you immensely!

Many of you have had to experience painful forms of motherhood trauma without recognition or compassion, whether it be; miscarriages, infertility, still births, barrenness, childless, adoptions, taking in children you did not birth, buried children, lives lost, shame, abortions, corruptions by sin of others, etc. Many of your heartbreaks have been turned into a weapon against you. I have made provisions for your hurt through the grace and blood of My Son and the healing power of the Holy Spirit. The devaluing of mothers, abusive behavior, and twisted perceptions are coming down. Society and culture will undergo a perception change as I am destroying the barriers and dividing the walls of hostility. I am mending the broken-hearted, restoring health, and healing wounds. Every difficult situation you face, big or small is preparing you to be stronger. Your pain has purpose, even when you don't understand. An anointing for ease on your life is released right now!

I am restoring "Honor" and "Wisdom" to the position of Godly Motherhood. I am sending mothers to lead in influence, bring balance, and strength to the world as you fulfill My Kingdom purposes reflecting My glory, through prayers, proclaiming My goodness, blessing and uplifting others with a sound mind filled with good thoughts. You were never an afterthought, but an integral part of My creation plan. You were designed and built in love to receive love. You are unique because you are My idea. There is power on the inside of you, your inner self, the unfading beauty of a gentle and meek spirit, is of great worth in Me. You are heirs of My gracious gift of life.

I command you to "LEAP" in faith for My Holy Inspired Joy is your strength to accelerate your exuberant praise about the fulfillment of the things hoped for!

New Birth:

My sons and daughters, as surely as the sun will rise and set each day, know that I am your ever-present help. For in this season of uncertainty, you wonder in your hearts and minds, God, where are you? I am here, not only am I here, but I am near. I hear your prayers and I hear the cries of your heart asking, how much longer, how much more, when, God, will this end? Some of you are angry and want to know how I could allow this to happen to those I love. My children, I hear you and want you to be at peace in the midst of this storm, for I am with you. Have I not assured you that I will never leave you nor forsake you? You can trust and rely on Me. My promises will not fail you. I am aware of your losses. For some, it has been in your finances, for some it has been your peace of mind, for some it has been your health and even some loved ones. My sons and daughters know that I care and will meet your very need.

I have and will always be your source; the One who provides your every need. I never run short and I never run out. There is always an abundance in My treasures for you. So, receive My peace that surpasses all understanding, I am releasing it to you now; unto you, I release healing to your heart, healing to your mind, healing to your lungs, healing to your joints and muscles, all you have to do is receive it. For I say to you, be mindful of your diet, what you eat, what you drink, what you watch, and what you listen to. Feed on that which will strengthen your body, mind, and spirit. Refuse to be stressed, and when they arise, cast those cares on Me. Allow Me to comfort you through your grief. For I can heal the deep places of your heart and soul, some of which you cannot articulate, but I am your Creator and I understand without explanation. Trust Me to provide and trust Me to restore your finances. Am I not the One who makes a river in the desert? So, be assured that I will provide for you! You will witness My word at work in your life that freely you have given and now is the time to freely receive. I will send food to your doorstep, deposits to your account, and expect to see some debts forgiven. Be wise in using the resources I release to you. In a time of what seems like in-opportunity, I will open doors of opportunity. Revisit your skill set. Look at the gifts that I have placed in you, and those developed in you over the years. Write them down and look again at what you have to offer in the marketplace. Some of you have overlooked opportunities, and it's time to go back and reconsider them. No need to fear My children, your Heavenly Father is here and will be your help. Sons and daughters be assured that I am God and God alone! Keep your eyes lifted toward Me that I may be your guide. This is not the time to waver, but the time to stand firm in your faith in Me and know that I am God. You will experience My strength and be a testimony that I am an ever present help in the time of trouble.

My sons and daughters of New Birth, have I not called you to be that light that shines in darkness? Yes, you have fulfilled My word, but I call you forth to shine even brighter. There is more work to do and more assignments that I have for you that must be accomplished. I am expanding your territory to shine in places you never thought you would need to go. Go in boldness for you are dressed in My armor and I have anointed you for healing, to restore sight, set free, and to proclaim My good news. I am removing those things that have dimmed your light so that what I have placed in you will shine through brightly. The fear and uncertainty that has caused you to hold back from speaking My truths when your voice needed to be heard is now removed. So, go forth to whom I send you, and speak the words of counsel and compassion I have given you. Though at times it may go against the grain, trust that I will cause these words to take root and redirect their path, lift their spirit, and even open their eyes to what they were blinded to. The hinderances of procrastination and overthinking is removed, for you will go forth in obedience to My will. There are those who are not strangers to you, but familiar, who have been hiding their pain, trying to find their way, and dealing with private struggles of addictions, loneliness, depression, and loss of hope. I am sending you their way, and the brightness of My light in you will shine on their dark places. Do not hesitate to pray for them, show them My compassion, and let them know I am their hope. It is I who will bring them out of darkness into My marvelous light. Let them know that their healing and deliverance is in Me! This is a time where many will be drawn to you, just know that I am doing the drawing. They are being drawn to the light that's shining through your deeds of kindness, the character you display, the words of wisdom you have spoken, but most importantly My spirit which dwells in you. Saturate yourself in My presence, don't rush out of our time together. As you read My word, expect Me to give you deeper insight and understanding. I am equipping you and sending you forth to fulfill My will in the earth. In a time when the world is in need and searching for answers, I am sending forth those who are a reflection of Me. It's your time to shine brighter for Me. There is a great harvest to be gathered as I send you to your family, your neighbors, your community, your co-workers, and throughout this world.

I call you forth as My chosen vessels, filled with and guided by My spirit, knowing that it's not you but My power through you that will heal, deliver, and set others free. Now rejoice, for I am using you to rescue those who are in darkness. Rejoice for the bloodlines that will be changed and praise Me for lives that will be saved! My sons and daughters, you are beacons of light that I will use to overcome darkness. I command you to go in obedience to My call that all you encounter will know that I love them and care, and I am their God.
